home of Mrs. Edwin Sherwood for a jolly social hour, about ten boys were present with their teacher.

A bevy of young folk left Friday for Albany to spend the week end and to attend a dance. While there a tea will be given in their honor. Among those going were: Miss Caroline Dick, Miss Marjorie Kay, Miss La Spaulding, Miss Bernice Craig, and Miss Irene Curtis.

Miss Helen Whitney, who has been the house guest of Miss Ellen Thielson for a fortnight, returned to Portland Wednesday morning.

The Unitarian bazaar, always eagerly anticipated, will take place Wednesday, December 2, in the church parlors. Myriads of beautiful and useful articles will be on sale. In the evening a delicious chicken pie dinner will be served from five to eight o'clock.

A simple and pretty wedding was that of Miss Ellen Siewert and T. E. Cooper, which was solemnized Thursday high noon, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Siewert, on Ferry street. The bride and party entered the room at the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march which was played by Miss Nellie Spotts, of Oregon City. An arch of maiden hair fern centered with an airy tulle lover's knot formed the effective decorations where the bridal couple was joined by the Rev. F. M. Fisher, of Month. The bride wore a pretty gown of white silk net over satin, made on simple lines, her only ornament being a place pendant, the gift of the groom. Her veil was wreathed with a tiny spray of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of brides roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Lena Siewert, who wore a frock of pink silk and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Albert Hittick attended Mr. Cooper. Little Miss Lucille Siewert, of Portland, a niece of the bride was flower girl and Miss Dorothy Siewert, of Los Angeles, carried the ring in the heart of a huge white chrysanthemum. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper left for a brief wedding trip south and will be at home to their friends after January first at 1695 Fairmount Park.

Dr. E. R. Seely, of Medford, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Seely returned home the first of the week.

Mrs. Hugh Williams, of Albany, is the house guest of Mrs. Jack Harding.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cooper, of North Commercial street, have visiting with them, Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Hunsaker, of McMinnville, Oregon. Rev. Hunsaker, who is a Baptist minister, eighty four years old, relates many interesting experiences on his travels through Oregon and Washington during his missionary work.

The Leslie Epworth League held its monthly party and business meeting last night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Sherwood. The young people assembled at the church at 7:30 and from there went to the Sherwood home. About 35 were present at the "jolly-up" and all had a merry time playing charades and singing songs and dancing of the doughnuts, cider and apples.

Mrs. Della Smallwood gave a Thanksgiving dinner in honor of her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. N. Coulson, who are visiting here from Forest Grove. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. N. Coulson, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Coulson, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Yarnell, Mrs. M. J. Schwab, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kaufman, Mr. and Mrs. William Yarnell, Misses Stella Yarnell, Crystal Coulson, Helen Yarnell, Edith Bailey, Hazel Bailey, Len Shaver, the Messrs. Fred and Robert Coulson, and Earle Yarnell, Nathan Schwab, John Shaver and the hostess.

The home of Mrs. Edwin Sherwood, 787 Cross street, was the scene of a joyous Thanksgiving dinner. About twenty of the university students who did not go home for the day were invited to eat turkey and all the accompanying trimmings. The table had places for eighteen and decorated with large chrysanthemums and ivy. After the dinner a number of toasts were responded to by the guests. The evening was spent in playing games and sitting around the blazing fireplace telling stories and eating apples.

Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Harding entertained the members of the Oaks Bridge club Monday evening. The tables were arranged in rooms artistically decorated with chrysanthemums, shading from the rich bronzes to the pale yellows. The additional guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Wood, and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Marvin. Card favors were captured by Mrs. E. O. Seiche and Homer Smith.

Dr. Avisons are entertaining as guests, Messrs. Herbert Moore, of Springfield, Oregon, and Ray Troco, of Eugene, who are delegates to the Older Boys' Conference which is in session in Salem.

Private Thanksgiving day festivities at Mountain View were discarded in favor of the community celebration at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Grice. The gathering was a fine affair and one of its kind, and brought together in response to informal invitations, a large representation of the countryside. Guests came early, with bounteous baskets for the old fashioned Thanksgiving dinner, which was served at noon. The house was decked with vivid rose tips, evergreen, and the national colors, the entire lower floor being claimed by the young folk who revived interesting-olde time diversions. A program of readings and musical numbers was given during the afternoon, the all day's merry making culminating with the auctioning of baskets in the evening; the fifty-two dollars secured in this way to be used on the salary of the local pastor. Those contributing to the pleasure of the hours were Mrs. Mary Wilson and Mr. Nicholson, who were seated in fine seats, and Miss Jennie Williams, Calder, vocal selections; Mr. Nicholson, J. R. Chapman, and Charles Kohake, violin numbers; Mr. Grice, banjo solos, and

LACK OF FUNDS HINDERS BOARD'S WORK

Inspection of Rural Schools Has Therefore Been Discontinued

In its annual report dated December 31, 1915, recently issued by the Oregon State Board of Health, the statement is made that on account of the lack of funds, the board was unable to continue its work of inspecting rural schools. Instead, a scheme was devised by having each rural school elect its own health officer, supplied with a manual of rules and regulations, and instructions how to report to the board of health.

Smallpox is not so fatal a disease as typhoid fever, diphtheria, scarlet fever, or even measles. Out of 458 cases of smallpox reported during the year, only three were fatal, while out of 3,094 cases of measles, there was 45 deaths.

The total number of deaths in this state for the year 1914 was 6,446, compared to a total of 11,824 in 1913. A larger proportion of males die than females, while 264 more males were born than females during the year.

Eighteen pasteur treatments were administered says the report, one of these coming from Marion county.

According to the proportion of deaths, typhoid fever is the most dangerous of contagious diseases, as 62 deaths were reported from 228 cases, showing that 27 per cent of the cases were fatal while the percentage of diphtheria was 10, and scarlet fever only 24 per cent.

In Marion county, the births for the year were 618 and deaths 418. The births were about equally divided as the males have a majority of only four, but the deaths of the males exceed that of females by 24.

Suicides in the state for the year indicate that men are more liable to take their lives, as the report shows 93 male suicides to only 23 female. Men prefer to end their lives by fire arms while women take to poison.

Of the 400 cases of cancer reported in 1914, 245 are reported from Multnomah county, 38 from Marion and 7 from Polk. The report notes the fact that no cases of cancer were reported from any of the Indian reservations.

Diphtheria was fatal in two cases in Marion county, and one in Polk, while the deaths from typhoid fever in Marion county were six, and no cases at all in Polk county.

The tuberculosis cases in the county of Marion for 1914 were 33 and only 5 in Polk county.

In compliance with the laws of 1913, all institutions engaged in the care of orphans and the homeless and wayward children were inspected at least quarterly and marked improvement found in all.

At the St. Mary's Home for Orphan boys, Beaverton, Oregon, 124 were present on the first day of this year. The average attendance for 1914 at the Christian Home for Orphan Girls, at Oswego, Oregon, was 135. The Albertina Kerr Nursery Home at Portland was caring for 33 babies on the first of the year. The House of the Good Shepherd, Portland, reports 118 girls having entered the institution during the year, and homes found for 80 girls.

The Boys' and Girls' Aid Society of Portland reports having received 416 children during the year, with 76 at ending at the date of report, December 31, 1914.

The Baby Home, Portland, reports having admitted 122 babies during the year, with 46 in the home December 31, 1914.

Dr. Carl Gregg Doney At Congregational Church

Dr. Carl Gregg Doney, president of Willamette university, and one of the ablest speakers in Salem, will deliver the address in the First Congregational church Sunday evening. Dr. Doney is to speak on the subject, "Religion and the War," a most fitting and appropriate conclusion to the series of illustrated addresses on "Europe and the War." Dr. Doney is particularly able to speak on the subject as he was among the Americans caught in Europe at the outbreak of the war and for ten months previous to that time had traveled extensively in England, France, Germany, Italy, the Balkans, Turkey, Egypt and Palestine. His address will deal with the social, religious, moral and political conditions in the countries visited by him. Characteristics of the various people as they revealed themselves to him during his journey will be described in the most interesting way.

He declares that religion in England is largely formal and unable to effect social reform, is timid and needs strength, unity, decision.

France is the country of queer contrasts, religious although atheistic, religious and immoral, religious and infidel.

In Italy Protestantism is stronger than in France, but the badness of Rome is more gross and stupid than the badness of France.

Among the Moslems ninety per cent of the people are illiterate, the church is purely political and life is at a dead level.

Germany, the nation unified and nationalized by poets, statesmen, philosophers and musicians, is a nation poorly efficient on dress parade, prepared for inspection, but a land where the women do the hard manual labor.

Dr. Doney characterizes some of the results of the war as follows: Christianity will be built up at the close of the war. The people are beginning to blame the rulers for the war.

There is a renaissance of morality. People see that states have not used the same morality that individuals have.

Patriotism must become international. Preparation for war cannot bring peace.

A universal revival of religion is taking place among European peoples. International problems. Devastation of Belgium. Poland and Serbia has increased human sympathy and mutual helpfulness.

The service begins at 7:30. Everybody invited.
